

N.E. FL HONEY BEE SYMPOSIUM

The symposium is an educational gathering of honey beekeepers for the purpose of gathering knowledge and skills in apiary. Florida's leading experts in beekeeping will be lecturing and giving outdoor open hive talks and demonstrations.

Dr. Jamie Ellis, Professor of Entomology and Head of the Florida Bee Research Lab at University of Florida, will be the Keynote Speaker for the event.

Everyone is invited to enter the Honey Show. It will be judged by Welsh Certified Honey Judge. Showcase your bees' abilities and bragging rights.

September 25, 2021

8:00am-5:00pm

UF/IFAS Clay County Extension

2463 State Road 16 West

Green Cove Springs, FL 32043

Please contact David W. Sieruta

for any questions or to register with cash or check at (904) 466-3613 or dtssie@aol.com

Limited to 150 people

$35.00 includes lunch – profits from the event go to UF Bee Lab for Honey Bee research.

Pre-register before September 21, 2021 at:

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/ne-fl-honey-bee-symposium-tickets-166537248393>

